

IHS GLOBAL INSIGHT CONSTRUCTION SEMINAR:

Timing the Recovery and Identifying Global Opportunities

23 JUNE 2009

IHS CERA Paris Office • 21 boulevard de la Madeleine • 75038 Paris • Cedex 01, France

Do you understand which markets will recover first? Will you be positioned to take advantage of these markets when they turn?

In this rapidly changing economy, it is critical to stay on top of market fluctuations and emerging markets for growth. Join IHS Global Insight for an intimate half-day Construction Seminar, as we examine global and Western European economies, assess the near-term outlook, and walk through possible scenarios that could alleviate or prolong current market conditions.

During the seminar, we will address key questions concerning the economic environment and the impact on your business, including:

- What are the first signs of economic recovery in Western Europe?
- Will infrastructure investments jump-start international construction markets and economies?
- Where are the best geographic and structure-specific markets in the World?
- How should you evaluate the risk of emerging economies relative to their growth potential?

Join IHS Global Insight's team of construction experts and European economists, as we highlight the latest trends and recovery prospects in Europe and around the globe.
